

Better Packaging

with HANS KOLB Wellpappe

better packaging!

with HANS KOLB Wellpappe. It's a claim that is also a promise. A promise that we'll provide an impressive variety of packaging solutions which are new every day. It was back in 1933 that Hans Kolb first founded what has now become one of the most successful family-owned companies in the corrugated-board business. Corrugated board forms the basis of the packaging solutions from KOLB. Simply explained we are architects for your products, „home“. Your customized packaging solution will be created by our team of our development department KOLB Design. The convincing criteria for reaching your packaging goals is a modern production environment and, above all, the know-how of more than 800 committed employees.

KOLB Standard More than just Length x Width x Height

Regardless of whether it's regular slotted cartons, die cut packaging, trays, interiors or any other KOLB Standard product, the broad range of finishes – from natural brown to direct-print, four-colour solutions in the Flexo-Direct print method – always gives your product a made-to-measure outfit. The early stage of selecting the specific type of corrugated board is where the potential of KOLB product development comes into its own. With the clever combination of paper and flute profile, the fundamental issue of stability is already settled. It's followed by diecutting of millimetrical precision. In other words, a lot more than just Length x Width x Height – namely, perfect packaging solutions for your product.

"Together with our customers we will continue to respond to all the requirements of the market and accompany them with constant innovations."

KOLB HighQualityPrint Aiming high in both colour printing and making an impression

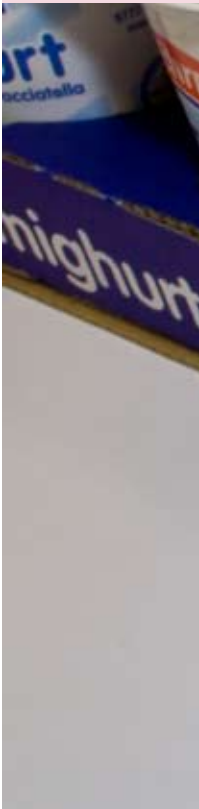

The colourful world of package printing: Welcome to KOLB HighQualityPrint! Whether you are talking small brand names and small informational texts or full scale images in a high quality finish – our products to where they belong: Into the limelight!

You can choose from KOLB PrePrint, KOLB OffsetPrint, KOLB PostPrint and KOLB DigitalPrint – each one of which is a winner and together are designed to meet a varied range of requirements and exacting quality standards depending on your particular needs - including the size of your print run. KOLB Pre-Print, HANS KOLB Wellpape's Flexo-PrePrint system, not only achieves maximum brand recognition through its outstanding resolution even when printing the most complex of images, but also opens up whole new dimensions when it comes to printing 2,500 mm wide paper at an advance length of 4,500 mm.

KOLB OffsetPrint, on the other hand, distinguishes itself through brilliant print quality and high-precision processing, while putting in a shining performance even in smaller and medium-sized print runs, which it produces in record production times.

KOLB PostPrint is designed for realising monochrome and colour printed products using the latest printing and inline printing systems and generates outstanding results even on creasing lines.

Prints that make an impression: No matter how different your products – our printing systems are bound to produce prints that cannot but impress.

Von der Vision zur Kleinserie

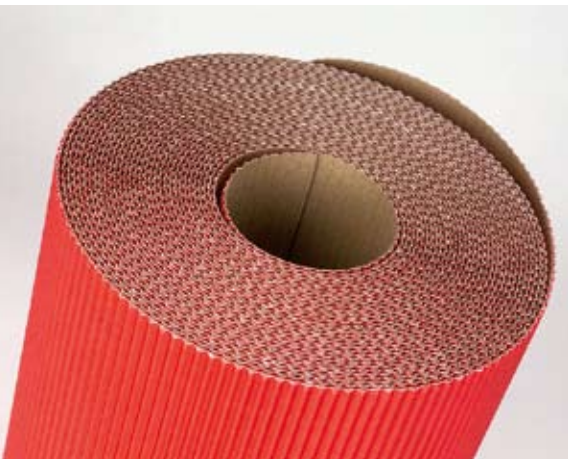

The fourth in our series of outstanding printing systems, KOLB DigitalPrint, is designed to bring to life your visions on both smooth and corrugated substrates – thus making it suitable for use on prototypes and extremely small print runs, where it produces images of outstanding quality thanks to non-contact digital printing.

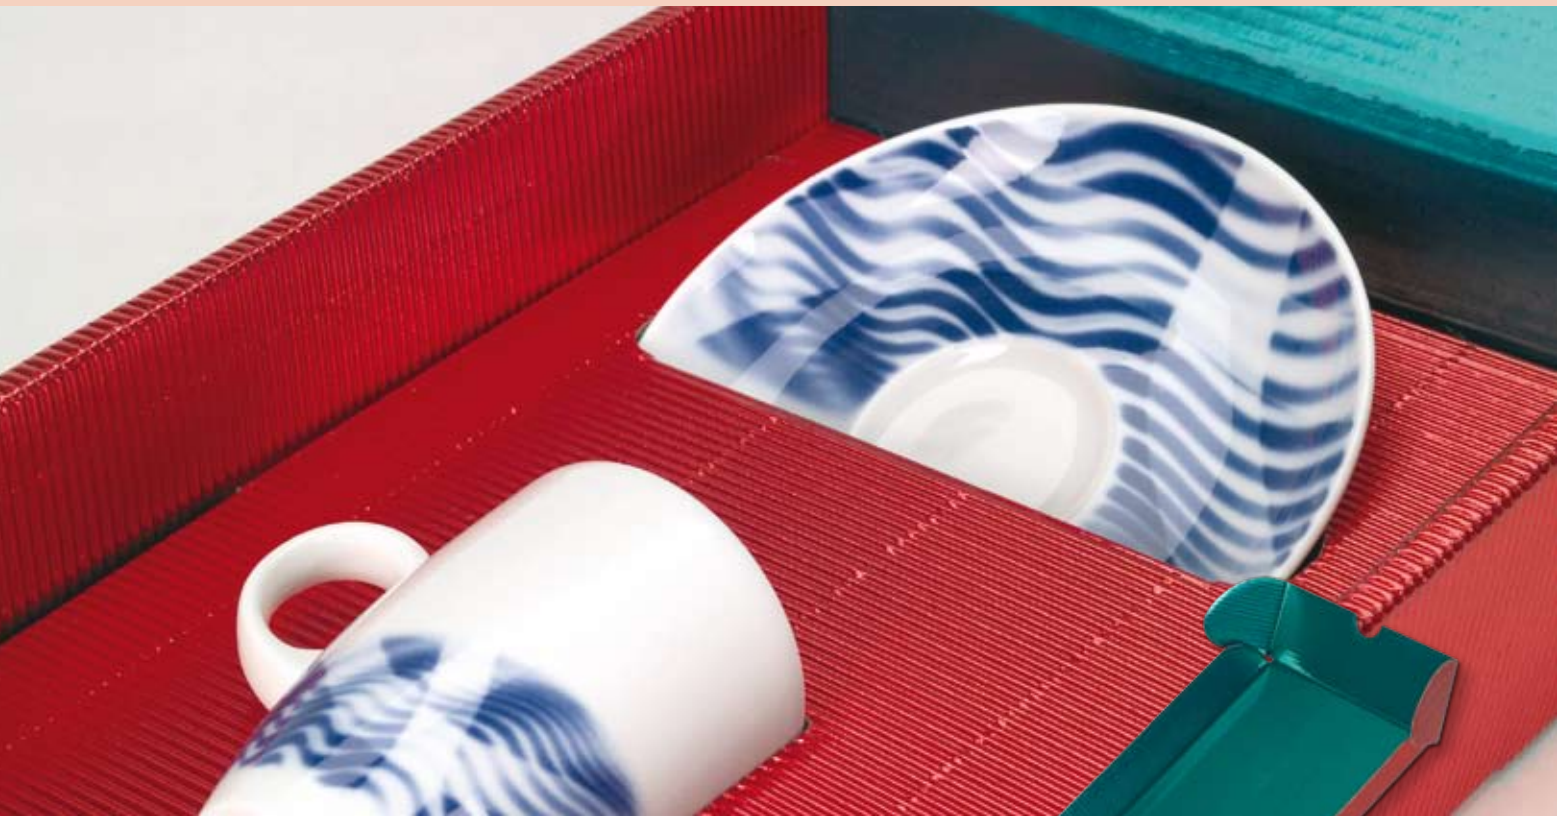

KOLB FarbVision prepress allows you see exactly how your packaging will look even long before any ink touches your paper – in animated form, three-dimensional and rapidly.

KOLB Specials Single-faced flute for new application possibilities

Creative areas of application and packaging requirements that are especially intelligent from an ecological point of view – that's KOLB Specials. COR-3D, the wave-flute from HANS KOLB Wellpappe, makes our products look and feel unusually good. But that's not all: from a purely technical point of view, the outstanding lateral and longitudinal stability predestines it for use as a singlefaced flute for further processing, for constructive packaging solutions, and as a corrugated board used in handicraft.

As COROLOR corrugated board, alongside the unique COR-3D-flute there are also various linear profiles in 16 standard colours and 2 especially shiny CORGLANZ surfaces.

Open for new possibilities: Single-faced flute

Whether it's CORBAND band packaging, CORLONG tube packaging, double-flute, single-faced CORBOARD creative corrugated board or CORFLEX corrugated board off the roll: for numerous applications KOLB Specials offer new approaches and new solutions that always have a single purpose: packaging that's better!

KOLB Display A big draw at the Point-of-Sale

Products are becoming more varied all the time, and your product has to convince the market. KOLB displays help your product to attract the attention it needs at the point of sale. With shelf, counter or stand displays made from corrugated board. Multifunctional, impressive, and always easy to handle.

One material for a broad range of solutions

As huge the variety of the display's and promotion good's requirements are as simple as the basis all of them: corrugated board. Stability and design in combination with multifunctional ways of use and recycling ability. Thanks to special corrugated board types – for example COR-3D – we can realise a special look and even an outstandig feeling with our wave-flute. Just use your fingers to image the multisensual characteristics of our display solutions.

KOLB CoatedProducts®

For products with special requirements concerning storage, logistics, production and transport, KOLB Coated Products® develops innovative coating technologies for packaging systems with undreamt-of benefits. For instance, CORSTAT™ - / CORTRONIC®- electronic packaging systems, which work according to the Faraday cage principle, to CORRUST® anti-corrosion packaging and SKINBOARD® corrugated board, the team from KOLB Coated Products® always provides the optimal packaging for you and your special requirements.

Corrugated-board-coatings for un-dreamt-of benefits

We realize packaging systems with moisture-resistant, nonslip, flame-retardant surfaces, or soft surfaces for scratch-sensitive packed items. And that's not all: combinations of individual coating technologies and a large number of further solutions mean that the safety of your product always takes pride of place. Or, simply put:

packaging is better with KOLB Coated Products®.

KOLB Service

Everything always starts with an idea. In fruitful dialogue with you, KOLB Design develops the perfect packaging solution for your product. KOLB FarbVision realizes colour-ful printed images that are creative and aesthetically appealing. The finished carton or special die-cut packaging is an important part of the packaging process. But usually, even more is involved. Together with partners we also offer packaging automation based on the very latest trends and technological possibilities, as well as representation of the entire co-packing process.

KOLB Logistics

The fact that the product alone is not the measure of all things as far as quality is concerned is proven by KOLB Logistics. Over 40 KOLB trucks are used to bring you your packaging solutions – just-in-time, and in the usual KOLB quality. Because for us, that's all a part of packaging that's better too!
